

WHAT YOUR DOLLAR WILL BUY

Unlike other colleges we derive no income either from taxes or endowment. The College has managed to exist and grow on fairly modest student fees and on gifts from its friends. It has a faculty which is willing to make sacrifices in order to teach here. Founded in the depth of the depression—1933—the College has had many obstacles to overcome.

In order to meet our present problem—preparing a permanent location for the College—we have cleared land, diverted a stream, cut away half a hill-side; we have cut the timber for piles, blasted and hauled rocks for walls, mixed and poured concrete; we have learned to build stone walls and lay flooring.

Yet the importance of actual building is but a part of our whole educational program. In order to continue that program, we need your help.
